OPTIONAL CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION

Continuing Medical Education (CME) credits are once again available <sup>10</sup> for the TEACH Abortion Training Curriculum, through the University of California Office of Continuing Medical Education <sup>11</sup>. This didactic activity has been approved (for up to 3 Category 1 Credit hours per chapter) for a fee of $60 (a one-time UCSF registration fee regardless of the number of chapters completed or credits requested). If you are in need of financial assistance, please reach out to info@teachtraining.org.

This knowledge-based didactic activity is meant to accompany clinical skills training to competency. For more information on the latter, please refer to our suggested a) Training Plans <sup>12</sup>, b) Core Abortion Training Competencies for Primary Care Clinicians <sup>13</sup> (regardless of setting), and c) Competency Evaluation <sup>14</sup> (Observed Performance Assessment).

Instructions for Obtaining CME:

1. Register for the Course: Visit the course landing page <sup>15</sup> through the new UCSF Office of CME Learning Management System to register (for new users) or log in (if previously registered with UCSF CME).

Note: If previously registered but have not started the CME your account has been transferred, and you will need to set a new password. Do not create a duplicate account. Your previous registrations and completed CME records should be transferred over to the new system.

If you have previously started completing CME your registration may not yet have been transferred to the new system. In which case please continue progressing through the CME via the original platform <sup>16</sup>. You must complete it before January 31, 2026 to claim credit.

STEP 3: Create an account with the UCSF office of CME- Click the second tab: “Register,” then Login or Create New Account

Overview
The TEACH Abortion Training Curriculum is an all-inclusive interactive curriculum with tools to train new reproductive health providers to competence. Especially in light of overturning nearly 50 years of federal reproductive protections, TEACH is committed to training, supporting, and mobilizing all primary care clinicians to help ensure reproductive health care, including abortion, to all our patients. Primary care providers globally serve an important role in the provision of reproductive health services: rural, and underserved areas (Graham 2005), receive procedural training, and care for patients throughout their reproductive years. This text is primarily U.S.-focused.
